

This map of Georgia illustrates the distribution of three bat species. The Gray bat is found in a large area in the western part of the state, outlined in red. The Indiana bat is found in a smaller area in the northwestern part of the state, indicated by blue hatching. The Northern long-eared bat is found in a large area in the eastern part of the state, shaded in orange. The map also shows county names, major roads, and a legend in the bottom right corner.

Legend:

- Gray bat (Red outline)
- Indiana bat (Blue hatched area)
- Northern long-eared bat (Orange shaded area)

Please use GNAHRGIS webpage to determine proximity to caves. Last updated December 2021.