

Archery Opportunities

There are multiple opportunities for archers outside of NASP. Check them out below!

Scholastic 3-D Archery (S3DA)

The mission of the Scholastic 3-D Archery (S3DA) Program is to foster, educate and guide youth in the areas of indoor target, 3-D and outdoor target archery as well as safe, ethical bowhunting practices. The goal of the S3DA program is to provide archery and bowhunting opportunities for young people in after-school settings as well as with archery-affiliated clubs and businesses in the community. S3DA provides an effective after-school archery program, focusing on Indoor 5-spot, 3-D and Outdoor Target archery and the certification and tools to deliver the instruction to youth.

The Junior Olympic Archery Development Program (JOAD)
USA Archery's JOAD Program is for youth as young as 8 years old. Archers learn range safety and proper shooting technique in an environment that fosters increased self-confidence and team-building skills. JOAD develops skills that lead to competitions at the local, state, regional, or national levels or progress into elite training opportunities such as the Regional Elite Development (RED) Program. Archers choose from barebow, basic compound, recurve, and compound bow disciplines.

Archery Shooters Association

ASA Federation clubs host competitions that feature a standardized set of competition rules; professionally executed shooting ranges; standards for dress and conduct; safety standards that include a maximum arrow speed; and a copyrighted 12-ring scoring system.

The ASA Federation is focused on the growth of 3-D archery by supporting local clubs and making a commitment to youth education and training. The ASA Federation includes experienced archers and coaches that work year-round conducting well organized and challenging events that are enjoyed by seasoned participants and newcomers alike.

International Bowhunting Organization

In 1989, the IBO established a series of sanctioned tournaments worldwide in which participants may qualify to compete in an annual finale to be held in a large and accommodating, destination-type venue.

Presently, hundreds of local and regional bowhunting clubs host qualifying events for the opportunity to participate in 3-D Archery's largest and most prestigious event - The IBO World Championship.

4-H Programs

Georgia 4-H offers a wide variety of programs and activities, including archery. Getting involved with Georgia 4-H is easy as it is administered in every county of the state. Unlike many other youth organizations, 4-H does not require a uniform or club fees. Children select from over 50 4-H project areas and hundreds of activities that are of special interest and work within their family's budget. 4-H programs are available for children ages 8-18. Cloverbud programs are available in some counties for children ages 5-7. Your local County Extension office can help you find the right 4-H program for your child and provide you with meeting locations, time commitment and program details.
