

Summer Day Camp Scholarships from the Logan Davis Life Foundation

The Logan Davis Life Foundation (LDLF) began in 2016 to honor Logan by passing forward her excitement for exploring new experiences and opportunities. This summer, LDLF wanted to create opportunities for local children to experience life and nature like Logan did when she was hiking and fishing at Charlie Elliott Wildlife Center (CEWC). She once said, "One of my biggest goals in life is to become one with nature". This is one of the many reasons why LDLF has chosen to provide scholarships for this nature-based camp. The Foundation considers camps at CEWC an outlet for providing mental and physical benefits, as well career opportunities and reprieve from electronics. These camps provide exposure to learning and experiences that can lead to a lifelong appreciation for what nature has to offer. The Foundation is honored to facilitate ways for your child to participate in the experiences of the natural world.

Charlie Elliott Wildlife Center is pleased to offer scholarships from the Logan Davis Life Foundation. Select one (1) camp from the following list that your camper would be interested in attending.

- Charlie's Trackers Camp (ages 6-8), June 7-11

Please answer the following questions as completely as possible:

1. What do you hope your child will take away from CEWC's day camp this summer?
2. What does your child like about nature?

Completed applications (email or hard copy) must be received by May 1. They will then be reviewed by the Foundation committee and selected applicants will be notified after May 15, in order to finish the registration process. When the application is submitted, the desired camp must also be registered for online (select the 'pay by mail' option). Having a completed application chosen will hold the camper's spot until final payment is made.
