

Charlie Elliott Wildlife Center

Volunteering

Volunteering with Charlie Elliott Wildlife Center is a fun and productive way to get involved with the Georgia Department of Natural Resources, Wildlife Resources Division. Giving your time not only helps wildlife but also helps the many guests that visit our center.

TRAIL KEEPERS

Help us keep our trails and common areas looking their best. This program is for individuals, small or large groups, families, or scout troops that like to work outside. We ask that you commit to at least once a month of walking and maintaining our trails. Maintenance might include trimming limbs, raking leaves, clearing small trees, removing weeds, cleaning up trash or assessing trail conditions and reporting status to staff. All tools will be provided.

EDUCATION

Interested in working with kids? Volunteer to assist our educators with onsite and offsite education programs. Programs might include onsite school programs, homeschool days, table events at festivals, STEM nights, camp activities, outreach programs, public programs, or overnight field trips.

VISITOR CENTER

Our Visitor Center is looking for friendly faces to greet guests, provide guided tours through the museum, and assist with "back of house" clerical tasks such as organizing, filing, or preparing for programming at Charlie Elliott Wildlife Center.

CAMP HOST

Do you love spending time outdoors and helping others enjoy nature? We're on the lookout for a friendly, reliable Campground Host for the Charlie Elliott Wildlife Center/Clybel WMA Campground! If you're an outdoor lover who's ready to pitch in and help out, we'd love to have you!

SERVICE DAYS

If your school, company, or organization would like to volunteer, let us know! We can host large groups on our property for service days. Projects might include pondside cleanups, roadside cleanups, trail maintenance, or other projects that come up.
